Where your heart is

This is my home

I am a Palestinian

I am a human being

Stop the wall

Left corner is never used and can't be used in walls, which are built here.

Only when we are larger should we begin to live

Don't want to build big fence if we only have children
and old people

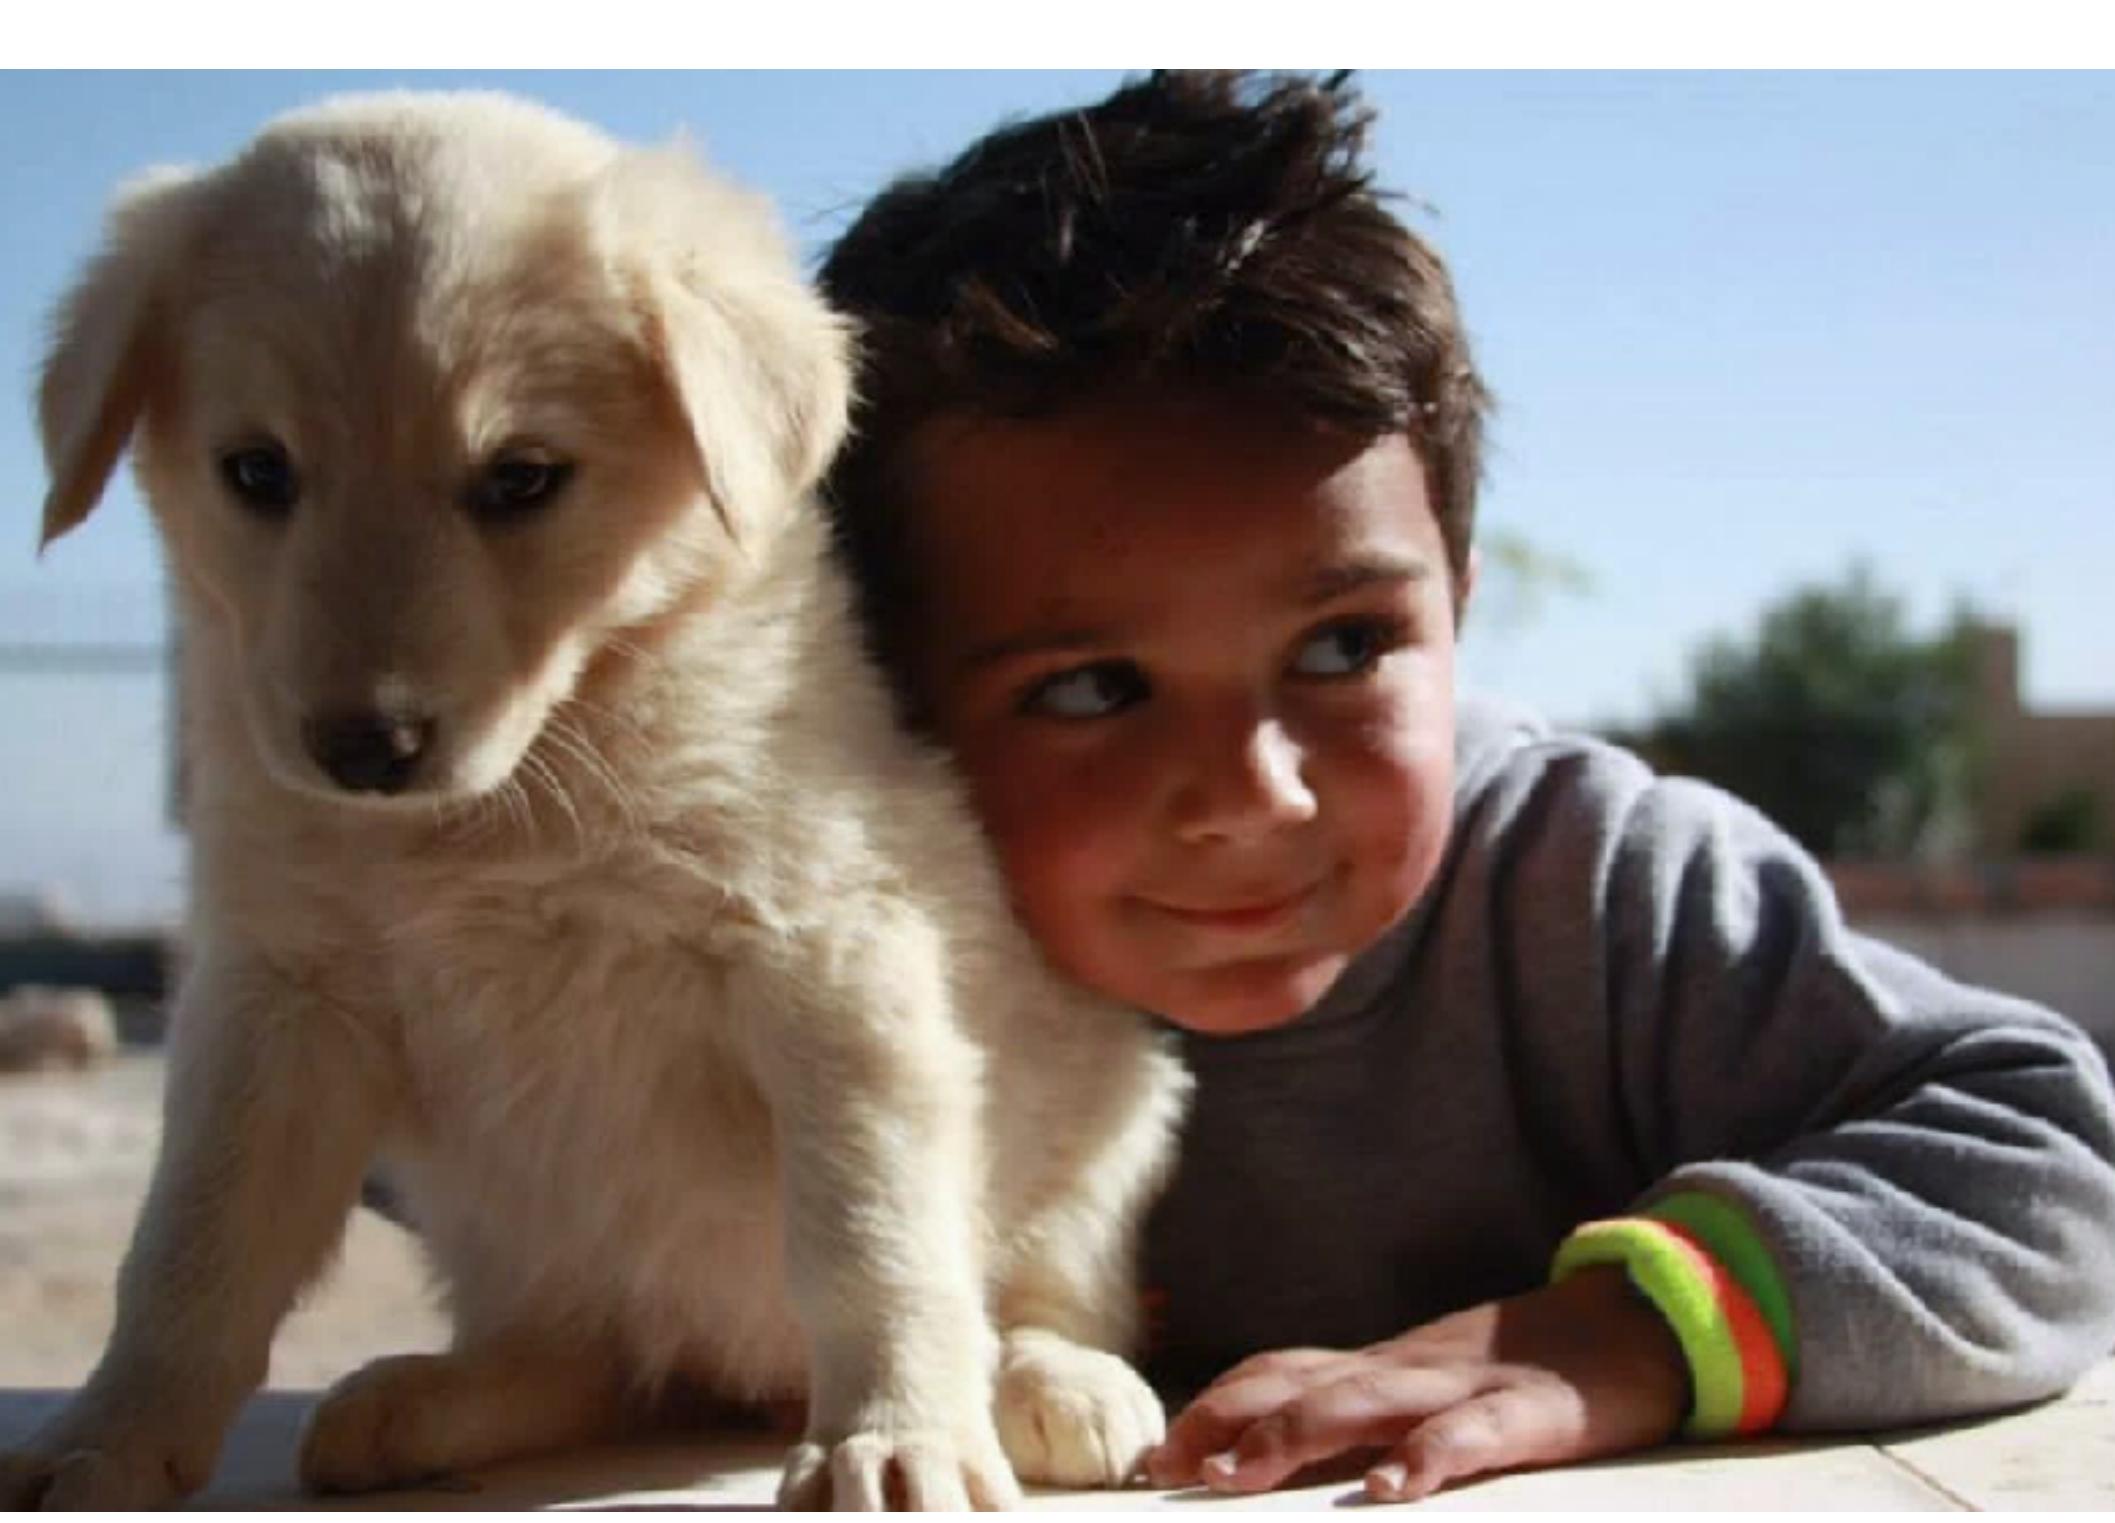

Don't want to

SANDRA GUIMARÃES

Brazilian vegan chef, writer and animal rights activist. She has been sharing unique recipes on her blog Papicapim since 2010, but she also writes about animal rights, social issues, feminism and Palestine, where she lived for several years. She has also helped developing Noor Women Empowering Project, a grassroots independent project created by and for refugee women from Aida and al-Azeem refugee camps (Bethlehem, Palestine) who have children with disabilities. Since 2014, she organises political-vegan tours in Palestine. She has worked as a chef in Palestine, London, Brussels, Beirut and Berlin. She has given many conferences in Brazil, and is currently writing a book about the need to connect veganism to the fight for land reform and against injustice and social inequality in the Brazilian context.
